

CUHK's Regional Course Descriptions

(subject to change)

Accounting

The primary objective of the course is to provide you with a solid conceptual and practical understanding of financial accounting.

Strategic Information Systems

This course provides you with a basic knowledge of information systems, how to manage them and of their role in business organizations.

Macroeconomics for Business Executives

This course provides with a basic understanding of the state of the global economy and macroeconomic policy.

Selected Topics in Management

This course is designed to further the knowledge of research and theory in the various special areas in the field of management.

Selected Topics in Global Business & Management

This course provides you with an opportunity to discuss and explore current and emerging topics related to global business management.